"Oil In The Middle East - Danger Spot"

"Oil in the Middle East, Danger Spot," will be the subject of Jay P. Gould, oil expert who recently returned from an assignment with the Iraq Petroleum company in the Middle East, in an adult school forum program in the Porterville high school cafeteria Monday evening, February 1, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Gould is presenting the third talk in a series of three based on freedom versus communism; the tremendous role that the oil industry plays in both the communistic and free world will be discussed.

Mr. Gould has served as chief engineer of drilling and production for the Iraq Petroleum company Ltd., the area of his supervision extending through the Middle East from India to Egypt. His work now as general manager for an oil tool manufacturing company takes him throughout the world, and he is considered to be one of the most popular forum speakers now appearing in California.

There is no charge for the talk; the public is invited to attend.

PAT BROWN IS CHAMBER DINNER SPEAKER

Pat Brown, attorney general of the state of California, will be the principal speaker at the 46th annual banquet of the Porterville chamber of commerce, to be held the evening of February 9 in the Porterville high school cafeteria.

State Senator J. Howard Williams will act as master of ceremonies; Harry J. Johnson, chamber president, will preside.

Tickets went on sale this week, with Bob Marshall, vice president of the chamber in charge. To be given away at the banquet as a community swimming pool benefit is a five-gaited, American Saddle bred horse, with silver mounted outfit, donated by Chamber Manager Joe Elliott.

CHINCHILLA RANCHERS PLAN DISPLAY AT PORTERVILLE FAIR; SIX PAIR OF ANIMALS SOLD IN AREA

The National Chinchilla ranchers sold six pair of their Andes Blue chinchillas from their four-day display at Porterville Feed & Seed this week.

"We were very satisfied with the reception in this area, and plan another display at the Porterville Community fair in May," said Don Householder, chinchilla rancher from the San Fernando valley, who was in charge of the local display.

Mr. Householder reported good results from displays at the Kern County Fair and a display in Shafter and disclosed that more displays are planned in the valley.

The National Chinchilla Ranchers act as a cooperative organization of breeders, and sell their breeding stock at $400 below current market prices, he said.

All stock sold for breeding purposes by the ranchers is graded and all must be at least number 85, a high quality nationally ac-cited cotton stalks and discing the 41-acre plot, located on former Jay G. Brown property south of Tule river and between Highway 65 and Plano road. Working on the job were: Don Farmer, of

Farmer's Tractor and Equipment company; E. W. Adams, of E. L. Machinery company; George Overcash, of Porterville Farm Implement company; Herman Farnum, of Billingsley and Elliott Tractor

FOUR HUNDRED WOMEN ATTEND BEEF COOKERY SCHOOL CONDUCTED BY TULARE COUNTY COWBELLE MEMBERS

Nearly 400 women — and more than a few men — attended the beef cookery school that was conducted last Tuesday afternoon in Porterville's Monache theatre under direction of the Tulare County Cowbelles.

Miss Ruth Hogan, home economist for the National Livestock and Meat Board, presented a two-hour program that stressed methods of preparing economical cuts of beef.

During the program she emphasized that beef should always be cooked at a low heat, that all beef is flavorful and contains protein, that no beef cut is naturally tough — it becomes tough if improperly cooked.

Among Porterville business firms that cooperated with the Cowbelles by providing equipment for Miss Hogan to work with were: Earl Gray, two gas stoves; Jones

ROBERT SERBIAN TELLS POPLAR GRANGE MEMBERS THAT MORE INTEREST SHOULD BE SHOWN IN PROBLEMS OF EDUCATION

"People should find out what is happening to the money they are spending for education," said Robert Serbian, Sunnyside school superintendent, in a talk Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Poplar Grange in the Poplar Grange hall.

Using the subject, "Dollars and Sense in Education," Mr. Serbian emphasized that money for education "comes out of your pocket." He said that this year, the state of California is spending $367,000, 000 for education, in addition to money raised by local school districts, funds provided by counties and funds coming from the federal government.

Mr. Serbian, who is a graduate of Porterville high school and college, said, "In the local school district, a budget is set up each year. It is advertised in accordance with law and public hearings on the budget are held. Anyone has a

HARVEY McCAMMON TO RUN FOR SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

Harvey McCammon, director of instruction in the office of Tulare county superintendent of schools, J. Post Williams, announced today that he has resigned his position in order to run for the office of county schools superintendent.

He states that he feels he cannot ethically continue to work under Mr. Williams after deciding to become a candidate, although his

Included with each pair is the cage, a years supply of feed, and the warranty.

The latter item is by far the most valuable, since it includes unconditional life insurance for a year, free veterinarian care for one year, guarantee of a litter within eight months of sale, and membership in the National Chinchilla Breeders' association, plus assistance in marketing of offspring.

contract with the county office continues until June 30, 1954.

He gives as one reason for running that it seems a negative attitude has developed toward the county superintendent and his office that cannot be resolved as long as Mr. Williams is in the position of superintendent.

Mr. McCammon has been in the Tulare county office of superintendent of schools for 13 years; he served as principal at Dunbar Union Elementary school in Sonoma county and at Pittsburg junior high; he has taught in Bakersfield and on the summer sessions and extension staff of Fresno State college and the University of Nevada.

Value of California's 1953 citrus crop was $126,380,000.

Just to prove how little it costs to run this tractor for 6 months . . .

WE'LL BUY HALF YOUR FUEL OURSELVES

Yes, you read it right! Trade in your old tractor on a new Oliver Diesel wheel tractor, and we'll pay half your new tractor's fuel bill for 6 months straight. We mean any 6 months' work on your farm, even your six heaviest work months, for the longest hours you want to work. Just bring in your fuel bills to show what you spent, and we'll give you a check for half.

why we're making you this offer

We figure if we offer to pay half your fuel, you'll keep track of your costs. That's all we want: for you to see how low they'll be. You'll find that you're burning only 6 gallons of fuel where your gasoline tractor burned 10 — and buying your diesel fuel for a whole lot less!

We're betting you'll say you'd never go back to gasoline. Especially when you find that your upkeep is as low as your fuel cost. Your Oliver Diesel has the simplest engine ever put in a farm tractor — no carburetor, no plugs, fewer moving parts — very easy to keep in top working order.

no starting engine, no starting fuel

Oliver Diesels start and run on diesel fuel. They give you instant starts even in freezing weather. They withstand a longer lay-up than any spark ignition tractor. Best of all, Oliver makes a diesel in any size you want — two-plow, three-plow, four-plow — whatever size is best for your operations.

you're paying for a diesel, why not have one?

That's what users say: with the high fuel cost of a gasoline tractor, you're paying for a diesel whether you have one or not. That's why farmers by the thousands are going over to low-cost diesel power. You will yourself, sooner or later. Why not buy your diesel now, start your savings now, while this special offer still holds.

The right permanent pasture can help your profit picture

When you consider both the value of your land and the weight goals you set for your cattle, it is almost always a profitable investment to plant the most productive type of permanent pasture your soil can grow.

Which grasses and what combination should be determined by such practical consideration as how well those grasses will fit the particular type and depth of your top soil, your irrigation potential and the breed of animal you expect to feed.

Providing the factual information that will help you select the particular combination of seeds that will work best for you is part of Sunland service. You are invited to take advantage of it. Good permanent pasture is a profitable investment, and the wiser your choice of seed, the better that investment pays. Phone or write Sunland Seed Department for specific information today.

COWBELLES ARE TO BE COMMENDED

Tulare County Cowbelles, particularly those of the southeastern Tulare county area, are to be complimented on the excellent beef cookery school they sponsored Tuesday afternoon in Porterville.

The program, presented by Miss Ruth Hogan, home economist for the National Livestock and Meat Board, was both entertaining and informative, and a number of Porterville business firms cooperated with the Cowbelles in providing door prizes and equipment for the demonstration.

The cookery school was part of a general program of beef promotion that the Cowbelles, and members of the Tulare County Cattlemen's association, have been pushing for the past several months — a program designed not only for the benefit of the cattleman but also for the benefit of the retail meat buyer in that emphasis has been placed on acquainting buyers with purchase of and preparation of the more economical cuts of beef.

And as Miss Hogan said, "All beef is good, all beef is full of protein value, all beef is flavorful, no beef cut is naturally tough — some people just make it tough in the cooking."

Without doubt the 400 or so women who attended the school enjoyed it. A similar program should be presented at least once each year.

MRS. DOROTHY KISLING, school nurse at Pixley, will discuss work of the Tulare County Heart association on the county school program over KCOK-TV, February 12. Mrs. Kisling is a member of the association board of directors.

Vegetable Farming On Diverted Acreage

Tulare county farmers contemplating planting some of their diverted acreage to vegetables should consider starting with a small acreage and increasing the acreage as they gain experience in growing, according to Vincent H. Schweers, farm advisor.

He pointed out that while climate and soil in the county can meet requirements of some 20 vegetable crops, the demand for some of these is quite limited, and is supplied at present by other areas.

Porterville Mother, Daughter Team Up In Santa Monica Play

Miss Ann Davis and her mother, Mrs. Marguerite Scott Davis, both past performers with Porterville's Barn Theater troupe, will have roles in "The Silver Whistle," a production at the Morgan theatre in Santa Monica opening February 12.

Mrs. Davis will play Miss Hoadley and her daughter will appear as Mrs. Gross.

Since leaving Porterville, Miss Davis has been associated with theatrical groups in Monterey and San Francisco. Mrs. Davis is visiting her daughter in Santa Monica.

Navel oranges produced in the state in 1953 sold for an average of $1.912 per unit, as compared to $2.75 per unit in 1952.

We Only Heard By BILL RODGERS

FOUR OR five years ago the Porterville chamber of commerce was left in somewhat of a turmoil after an annual banquet had been topped off by a speech that took a definite partisan, political trend. We thought that would be a guide for the future, but apparently not, for chamber directors last week were again in a political tussle in connection with this year's banquet speaker, who will be Pat Brown, attorney general of the state of California . . . Not that we expect Mr. Brown to give a political talk. On the contrary, we are sure that he will not; we are sure that he will deliver an excellent address, for he is capable of doing just that . . . But unfortunately, chamber directors, last Friday morning, found themselves with confirmation on two speakers, one, the attorney general of the state of California, who happens to be a Democrat; the other, a congressman from the East who happens to be a Republican. Of course, a decision had to be made — accept one, cancel the other, and while chamber directors stated several times during a prolonged meeting that politics did not enter into the picture — they wanted only the best possible speaker — politics was there, as it couldn't help being . . . Chamber President Harry J. Johnson explained that an attempt had been made to get the governor of California as a speaker, but without success; that an attempt had then been made to get the attorney general, but that his office had reported that he had another engagement. Directors George Skilton and Frank Sheldon had then been placed on a speaker committee, and, after a time, secured the congressman from the East . . . But, meanwhile, the attorney general had been brought back into the picture, and on Tuesday of last week, it was learned that he had accepted the Porterville date . . . So there the chamber board was, come last Friday morning, with one banquet and two speakers . . . And after considerable conversation had gone around the directors' table, and after Mayor Les Hamilton, who was attending the meeting, had said that in the interest of good relations between the office of the attorney general and the city of Porterville, as well as in the interest of having a man of prominence from within the state of California, he favored the attorney general, and, after Mr. Johnson had said that because he believed the banquet would be more successful with the attorney general as a speaker, he also favored him, the question was finally put to a vote of directors. The verdict: 5-4 in favor of the congressman from the East . . . At this point, J. Claude Nelson, chairman of the chamber's membership committee and also active on the community swimming pool committee, tendered his resignation from both committees, saying that it was too hard to get members for the chamber after its record of the past four or five years, that he didn't want to work any longer after the

State Hospital To Begin Foster Home Program

The Porterville State Hospital announced this week that it is ready to begin its foster home program and is actively seeking applications from interested persons.

The foster home program of the Department of Mental Hygiene has long been an accepted and recognized therapeutic extension of its hospitals' treatment plan. Porterville's program is a specialized decision that had been made. He said that he didn't feel that he had been treated fairly. He said that he would continue his other community work . . . After that, there was a motion for a resolution commanding Mr. Nelson on his membership committee work, which had upped the members to about 260. There was other talk of resignations; Director Lee Clearman suggested that perhaps the board had been out of order voting on the speaker, that selection of a speaker should rest with the president, but the meeting adjourned without further action. . . . At 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon, directors met again, with Vice President Bob Marshall presiding, since Mr. Johnson was out of town. It was reported that Mr. Johnson had conveyed the information that unless the board action of the morning was reconsidered, he would consider the vote an indication of a lack of confidence, in which case he would resign. Manager Joe Elliott said that if the president resigned, he felt that he also should. Outcome of the afternoon meeting was that board members rescinded their action of the morning, thereby leaving the selection of a banquet speaker up to the president . . . Which leads us to remark that chamber of commerce and partisan politics do not mix. Directors of the future please note and remember.

plan for mentally retarded children who have received maximum benefits of hospitalization but who are either unable to return or are not yet ready to return to their own homes.

The hospital is initially interested in contacting those people of all races and creeds in Tulare, Kings and Fresno counties who feel they could provide a home for from one to six children between the ages of 4 and 12 years.

Provision is made for clothing, medical and dental care. Foster parents are paid at the rate of $70 monthly for the room and board and physical care of each child. In addition, a $5 monthly allowance is allotted each child for incidental expenses.

Those interested should apply to either George K. Humphrys, Supervising Psychiatric Social Worker, P. O. Quarterly Bulletin of the Tulare County Historical Society

About this time Bryant changed jobs, going to work for Norman De Vaux who had a Buick agency. His work was much the same as before — chief mechanic and auto racer. While at Portland, in 1911, he ran across a Curtiss aeroplane that had been damaged in an accident and he persuaded De Vaux to buy it as a publicity stunt.

Bryant repaired the plane and went through his self-instructed "basic training." This took place three or four miles south of Firebaugh, where the Associated Oil Company had a pumping station. A road along the pipe line served as a runway to taxi the plane. After getting the feel of the controls and being sure the engine was o.k., he would speed it up and fly three or four feet off the ground. Then he ventured a little higher and practiced some turns. When he was making ten minute flights he went back to San Francisco and flew from Cavalry Flat at the Presidio. One day he crossed the Golden Gate. He still remembers the experience because just as he was returning his engine sputtered and quit. He landed safely and discovered that the valve under the gas tank had jiggled shut and stopped the flow of gasoline to the engine.

Barnstorming, giving exhibitions of flying and opportunity for close up views of planes offered a good income to the few people owning planes and Bryant went into it. He joined with Ray Francis in scheduling shows through the west. It was better to have a partner because sometimes a plane was balky after the crowd had paid its money. Folks were better satisfied if a flying machine actually got off the ground.

Such was the event held at Tulare in February, 1912. Bryant flew the old Curtis biplane that DeVaux had bought in 1911. This machine had been built by Glenn Curtiss in 1909 and taken to France where it won the record for speed at the famous air meet of that year. Up to that year there were seldom more than two or three planes that could be depended upon for competition. The ship was returned to the United States and made the first long cross country flight — from Albany to New York. It was purchased by Charles K. Hamilton and shipped to the Pacific Coast where he made a few flights and finally wrecked it.

The resemblance of the Curtiss and the original Wright plane is obvious, but there were improvements. The landing gear was a combination skid and tricycle, one wheel out in front, two under the wings. There was a brake on the front wheel, like on a boy's coast-

Funds raised by the campaign will be used to finance training of leaders, keep up Camp Mirimichi, and the new camp David Wortman, presentation of Scout Circuses, Camporees and Expositions.

FINS FUR FEATHERS

By Phil The Forester

Hard to believe but construction has definitely started on the San Joaquin River trout hatchery. This project was approved in March of 1949 at which time $260,000 was appropriated for construction.

Because of an extraordinary amount of red tape, clear land title, water use agreements, etc., the project has been kicked around until last week when contractors moved in with equipment to start the first of several contract jobs.

In the meantime, building and other costs have skyrocketed so another $488,000 was allocated to the San Joaquin Hatchery resulting in a three quarter million dollar installation. The new trout factory is expected to be in operation for the 1955 fishing season with an estimated production of 120,000 fingerling trout for high elevation and 900,000 put and take roadside catchables.

To be in operation for the first time this year and ready for the 1954 trout season will be the new Moccasin Creek Hatchery in Tuolumne county. The output here will be slightly more than San Joaquin.

When in full operation in 1955, the San Joaquin Valley will have six trout factories. In addition to the above there are the remodeled Yosemite, Sequoia out of Visalia, Moorhouse out of Porterville and the Kings River Hatchery. Until San Joaquin is completed, the old Bass Lake and Kings River hatcheries will continue to function but thereafter both will be abandoned.

These new additions should give valley anglers all the catchable size trout they have been crying for. Even before Moccasin, this region was considered an important producer of both trout and warm water fish and accounted for approximately one-fifth of the total state catch of each.

Compared to this only 10 percent of the state's anglers live in this region therefore the volume of visiting fishermen and fishing pressure in this area is obvious and is getting more so from year to year.

It may very possibly be that the trout season will open in southern California April 17 and in this area May 1. It can be definitely reported now that Bass Lake is in the process of being restocked with black bass, bluegill and crappie as game fish with golden shiners and fathead minnows as forage. The lake has been completely cleared of all other species including the thousands of rough fish that gave anglers a bad time in past years.

Sermon in Miniature

By Everett C. Schneider, Minister
The Evangelical United Brethren
Church
511 Third Street, Porterville

"WITH NO REGRETS"

Cancer, apparently, is an old disease, for we read in II Chronicles 21:18 concerning King Jehoram of Judah that "The Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease." Of course this could have been something else, as the disease is not named.

"How" he died is not so important, however, as "why" he died. In the first part of this chapter we read that "He walked in the way of the kings of Israel, as the house of Ahab had done, for the daughter of Ahab was his wife. And he did what was evil in the sight of the Lord." (Vs. 6).

But "when" he died there was something lacking. We read in verses 19-20 "His people made no fire in his honor, like the fires made for his fathers. He was thirty-two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem; and he departed with no one's regret. They buried him in the city of David, but not in the tombs of the kings."

It is a sad commentary that a man who was born to be a king "departed with no one's regret." But it could be said of many people today; and not because they failed to amass a fortune, nor that they died of "lead poisoning", but rather because "they had done evil in the sight of the Lord."

It is important to be well-born, but it is more important to be "born again."

NATIONAL PEACH COUNCIL TO MEET IN FRESNO

For the first time since its organization some thirteen years ago, the National Peach council will meet on the Pacific Coast. The time will be February 13 to 17 in Fresno.

The National Peach council is primarily a growers' organization and is set up to protect and advance the growers' interests at the national level. In line with this policy, these annual meetings are held at the peach producing centers in various areas in the United States.

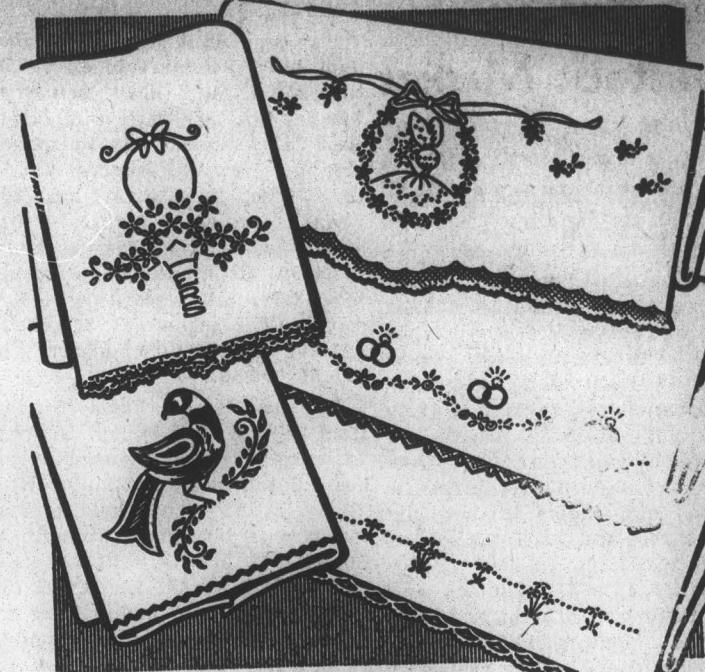

The program of meetings which will begin Monday, February 15th, will be one of the most comprehensive that has ever been developed for one of these annual meetings. Authorities from almost every state involved in the raising of peaches will participate in reporting from either a panel discussion or from an address on the platform according to H. W. Van Gelder, convention chairman.

Oil and gas leases in the county more than doubled in 1953 over last year, reported W. W. Sunkel, county recorder.

Prices of full-time farms are listed as lower than six months ago by more than half of the country's real estate boards.

NATIONAL PUBLICITY GIVEN COWBELLES ON BEEF PROMOTION PROGRAM THROUGH MAGAZINE PHOTO

Tulare County Cowbelles received national publicity in the February issue of the Farm Journal, in an article, "Beef Is A Bargain," in which the program of beef promotion through use of recipes for preparation of economical cuts — a program that originated with the Tulare County Cowbelles and Tulare County Cattlemen's association — is commented on.

VALLEY FARM EMPLOYMENT INCREASES

Farm employment in the six counties of the San Joaquin Valley rose slightly over the past two weeks, with approximately 100,000 working compared to two weeks ago when 93,000 were employed, exclusive of farmers and unpaid families. This upswing in employment is one of a seasonal nature. However, the rise can partially be attributed to the excellent weather permitting large numbers to be employed in cotton.

There were nearly 30,000 working in this harvest the past week.

Slightly more than 20,000 workers were employed in the pruning of vines and trees. This past week's employment is compared with a year ago when 110,000 workers were employed in these six counties according to the Farm Placement supervisor. The difference in employment this year and last

no doubt is due to uncertainties related to the reduction in the cotton acreage for 1954.

The ginnings in the six cotton counties of the valley for the past two weeks totaled 67,076 bales, bringing the total to date for the six counties to 1,475,970 bales. The state total is 1,697,572 bales, bringing the cotton harvest on a state-wide basis to slightly more than 97% complete, based upon the state estimate of 1,725,000 bales.

Dr. Lloyd Richards, chief, dental division, California State Health department, who presented the idea of the survey agreed to meet again with the group early in March to help plan a dental health education program for the two counties.

"Buck" Jones Will Be Candidate For County Sheriff

Road Investigator Aaron D. (Buck) Jones of Tipton has announced that he plans to file as candidate for the position of sheriff-coroner of Tulare county at the June 8th primary election. Mr. Jones formerly served as deputy constable and deputy sheriff in the Tipton area.

In announcing his candidacy for this important political office, Mr. Jones wishes to say to the voters of Tulare county the following:

"I was born in Murray county, Oklahoma, on June 26, 1912, the middle child of 10 children, seven boys and three girls. Sheriff Buck Garrett of Murray county, a friend of my father, gave me the nickname of "Buck" when I was a baby."

"My youth was spent on the farm, and at 16 I enlisted in the United States army, serving four years and was honorably discharged at Fort Sill, Okla."

"After leaving the army I married and engaged both in farming and working in the oil fields of Texas and Oklahoma."

"In 1939 I sold out and came to Tulare, California, with my family to settle down."

"When world war II started I helped build Camp Stoneman, and after that I worked at the ammunition depot at Port Chicago for the United States navy. While there on July 17th, 1944, at 10:19 p.m., I was the nearest man to the ships who lived when the boats blew up. 325 men lost their lives that day."

"I own my own home in Tipton, two of my children are in school in Tipton. My oldest son, Paul, is with the United States army in Korea."

"I believe I am qualified to serve the people of Tulare county as their sheriff-coroner as I have had a world of experience with men under a variety of conditions. My law enforcement work has made me familiar with the needs of Tulare county and its citizens. If elected I promise honest, efficient law enforcement."

right to voice an opinion at these hearings.

"The budget of the county superintendent's office, however, is not advertised and no public hearing is held in connection with it. Yet for the 1953-54 year, this budget amounts to nearly a half million dollars."

In commenting on an item of more than $20,000 for travel and conventions in the 1953-54 budget of the county superintendent of schools, Mr. Serbian said that in connection with this item, the question might well be asked, "Is this trip necessary?"

Mr. Serbian praised school trustees generally as being sincere individuals who spend a lot of time and effort in behalf of the public schools. He said that good teachers are worth every cent a district can possibly pay; that poor teachers should have no place in the school system.

He said that as long as "the people" pay the bill and education is compulsory, the school belongs to the people. He urged more interest in school affairs.

"What goes on in education is the concern of all citizens," he said. "It costs money to support good schools, but money alone is not enough. We must also have citizens who will make certain that our tax money is used for the best possible educational program."
